

Daniel Merza is an award-winning international speaker, author, and coach, specialising in wellbeing and leadership.

Having worn the “underdog” cap growing up, Daniel’s story can be summed up in three words – “Defying the odds”.

Bullied for a decade, diagnosed with a mental illness at 13, and labelled as a student with “no hope”, Daniel will reveal how he faced up to his tormentors at 16 and turned his life around 180 degrees - to create a life of achievements and significance.

A Chartered Accountant (CA) at 23, Daniel enjoyed an illustrious corporate career spanning 15 years, with leading companies like KPMG and BDO in senior management roles before embarking upon his mission to inspire tenacity, optimism and empowerment in the next generation.

Daniel has developed clever and fun ways to engage, empower and equip thousands of people worldwide – from students, parents, educators to corporate professionals and business entrepreneurs - to get the monkeys off their back and become the leader of their life. He has been featured on radio and media outlets, and his work has also been acknowledged in NSW Parliament.

“Highly recommend. Daniel tailored his presentation for our audience, mostly GPs. Very motivating and inspirational.”

CONFERENCE ORGANISER – SIMPLIFYING BUSINESS

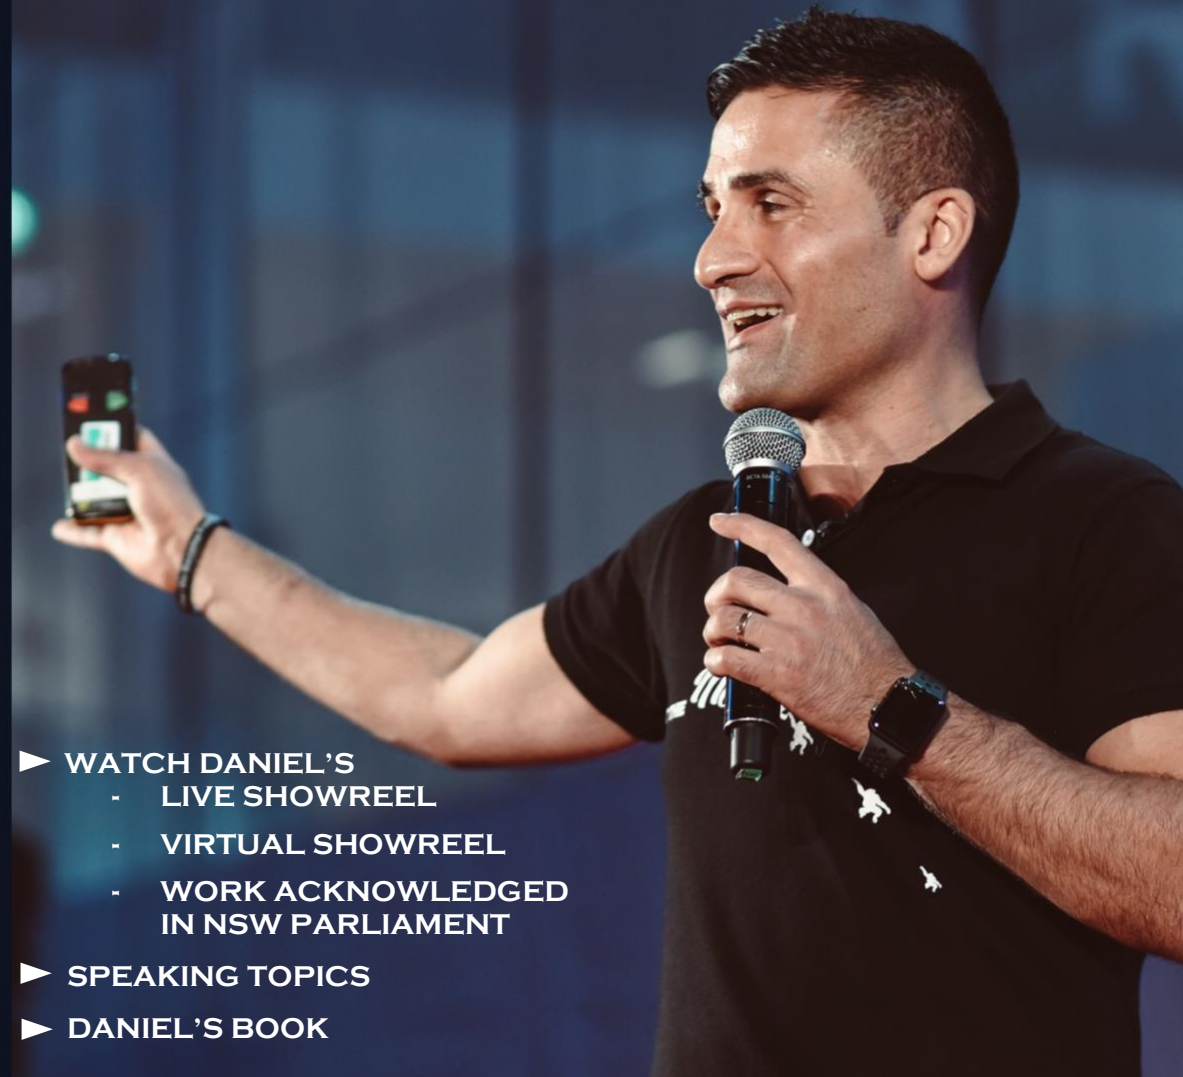

“Sensational. Our staff thoroughly enjoyed it, with more than half of our attendees approaching Daniel following the session. We’d definitely have him back.”
